INJUNCTION FOR WESTERN UNION

Company Desires Its Rights Protected Under the Under-ground Ordinance.

In the United States District Court yesterday, Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., granted the Western Union Telegraph Company a temporary injunction restraining the city of Richmond from interfering with the lines, poles, &c., of the company.

The injunction was obtained on motion of Messrs. Sullivan and Holladay, counsel for the company, because of the passage by the Council of Richmond of what is known as the underground ordinance.

This ordinance requires all concerns operating electric wires in the congested districts of the city to place them underground within a limited time, which is six months after the passage of the ordinance.

The company, it is understood, does not object to going underground, but entertains fears that the ordinance as drawn may permit the city to impose some additional restrictions not allowed under the present franchise.

The ordinance has been amended in the Street Committee to meet the views of the company, and it may be that the injunction proceedings were invoked pending the adoption of the amendments by the Council.

JURY HAS BUSBY CASE

Powerful Closing Arguments of Messrs. Meredith and Royall.

VERDICT NOT YET REACHED

Jury Deliberates Two Hours and Is Discharged Until To-day.

The case of J. H. Busby vs. Luther Dawson, Sol L. Bloomberg and Harry Marks for $50,000 alleged damages, which has been on its second trial in the Law and Equity Court for nearly two weeks, is now in the hands of a jury of that tribunal, the argument having been concluded about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The jury deliberated for over two hours, and at 6:10 o'clock were brought in court and discharged until 10 o'clock this morning, with a positive injunction from His Honor, Judge Ingram, that they should hold no conversation with anyone regarding the case during the recess. There was no statement that the jury was hung, and it is possible that the members consumed the time yesterday afternoon examining the vast number of exhibits filed in the case.

The only statement to the court was that the jury had not yet reached a verdict, and they were accordingly discharged until the hour named.

The features of the trial yesterday were the powerful and eloquent speeches of Messrs. Wyndham R. Meredith and William L. Royall, representing respectively the defendants and plaintiff, and were pronounced by lawyers and laymen as the finest heard before the court in many days.

The verdict in the case will be anxiously awaited by the public, and there is widespread interest in the outcome of the second trial of the case.

Morning Session.

When court convened this morning at ten o'clock there were a great many spectators on hand, and within an hour after that time, the room was fairly jammed with eager listeners. Many of them being friends of one or the other of the litigants. Inside the bar there were a large number of lawyers, among whom were Judge S. W. Taylor, J. C. Crump, Mr. Wyndham R. Meredith, counsel for Harry Marks, resumed his argument on behalf of his client as soon as Sheriff Epp's opened court, and he spoke until nearly 11 o'clock. His address began on Wednesday, and is regarded and pronounced by many as a very powerful delivery of facts, and incidentally of all the defendants.

Mr. Meredith followed the thread of the evidence from one end of the very interesting and remarkable case to the other, and during the delivery of his address he had the rapt attention of the jury, as well as the spectators, who fairly filled the court room, and when he resumed his seat he was warmly congratulated by those about him.

Case Not Made Out.

Dissecting the testimony of the plaintiff's witnesses piece by piece, the speaker made it plain to the jury that the case introduced by the defense, and put forth the claim that there was no "clear and convincing proof" to support the charges in the declaration by which the instructions of the court said a verdict for the plaintiff could only be reached. He declared that the charges of intentional destruction of Busby's business had fallen to the ground for the lack of this "clear and convincing proof," and he argued that what the defendants had done was to destroy Busby's business had done so without good faith and for the purpose of helping Busby out of his troubles. Mr. Meredith closed with an eloquent address which was in the nature of a plea to the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendants, and thereby wipe from their good names the stigma and injury which the destruction of the plaintiff sought to fasten upon them in the eyes of the world.

Mr. Royall Closes.

It was about 12 o'clock when Mr. W. L. Royall arose to close the case for Busby, and he had the rapt attention of the jury and the spectators, who fairly filled the court room, and when he resumed his seat he was warmly congratulated by those about him.

Idea Ridiculed.

He ridiculed what Mr. Smith had called Dawson's "herculean efforts to pull Busby out of a hole," and said that at that time the assets of his client were $40,000 in excess of his liabilities. Such a tale, he said, was childish and was so absurd that he knew not how to deal with it. He said that the charges of intentional destruction of Busby's business had fallen to the ground for the lack of this "clear and convincing proof," and he argued that what the defendants had done was to destroy Busby's business had done so without good faith and for the purpose of helping Busby out of his troubles. Mr. Meredith closed with an eloquent address which was in the nature of a plea to the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendants, and thereby wipe from their good names the stigma and injury which the destruction of the plaintiff sought to fasten upon them in the eyes of the world.

Recess Taken.

He said Marks was a hard-headed merchant, who took his leaps in the dark, and that he only won the better by Busby's creditors. When assured by Dawson and Bloomberg that he was to share with them equally in the proposed bankruptcy proceedings.

The court took a recess until 2:30, and upon the resuming of the case, Mr. Royall resumed his argument. Mr. Royall spoke just twenty-five minutes in conclusion, and it was five minutes to when he closed his address with a verdict for their attention and resumed his seat.

The members of the jury at once retired to their room, and lawyers and clients sat anxiously awaiting a verdict.

When the jury had been out for nearly two hours, they were brought into court and discharged until 10 o'clock this morning.

WILL FIGHT CAPT. LAMB

Republicans Decide to Put Man in Field From Third District.

Republicans of the Third District are going to make a fight for Captain John Lamb's seat in Congress.

A meeting of the Republican District Committee was held yesterday in the Ford's law building, this city.

All factions of the party were present. Mr. Sam Bendit appearing by proxy as representative of the Treat-Sneed faction, and Mr. Edgar Allan, Jr., appeared by proxy for the interest of what is known as the Williams-Allen faction. All the members were present in person with the exception of the two represented by Bendit and Allan. Those present claim that all past differences were buried, and a vigorous fight for a Republican conservatism of hold their own.

Among the candidates already mentioned are Messrs. R. H. Talley, Edgar Allan, Jr., Jonas A. Marcuse, John M. Ryall and M. M. Williams.

Hold Convention.

The following resolutions were unanimously passed yesterday:

That a congressional convention for the Third District of Virginia is hereby called to meet in the city of Richmond on Thursday, July 14, 1904, at 10 o'clock.

Second, that a Republican candidate for Congress be nominated at said convention for the Third District of Virginia.

Third, that the organization of this district be perfected as provided for under the plan of organization of the new party, as set forth by M. M. Williams, district chairman, which will insure a free, full and impartial expression of the people as to their choice for said members of city chairmen, notify M. M. Williams, district chairman, at once, so that the proper call may be sent to the district chairmen.

Fifth, that all persons who are members of the city or county committees, notify M. M. Williams, district chairman, No. 87 China Street, Richmond, Va., at once.

Sixth, that as soon as the various delegates and alternates, as well as members of the new organizations are elected under this call by the various county and city conventions, that notice of same be forwarded at once to M. M. Williams, district chairman.

Seventh, that there shall be elected county and city chairmen, and members of the new organizations are elected under this call by the various county and city conventions, that notice of same be forwarded at once to M. M. Williams, district chairman.

Eighth, that notice of the time, place and manner of holding county and city conventions be sent to the district chairman, M. M. Williams, at least ten days previous to the holding thereof.

Forty-one Delegates.

Ninth, that said district convention shall be composed of forty-one (41) delegates, to be elected at the various county and city conventions, and this committee earnestly requests, and recommends that in order to preserve the interest of the party and all fairness, to the end that every person be allowed to have a voice in the selection of delegates and members of the organization of our party, that county conventions be held July 23, 1904, at the various county courthouses at 10 o'clock M., and city conventions be held at 8:30 P. M. on said date, at such places of meeting as each City Committee shall designate.

Tenth, that the delegates to the district convention shall be apportioned as follows:

Richmond city.....	14
Manchester.....	2
Hanover.....	2
Henric county.....	2
King William county.....	2
Charles City.....	2
Goehland county.....	2
New Kent county.....	2
Total.....	41

Eleventh, that the chairman is directed to elect a committee of five members, to be elected at county and city chairmen, as well as each county and city committee, who have been properly elected and whose names have been properly certified to him with the address of such persons, a full and complete list with instructions for the wardens was a sure thing for the warm summer nights to come.

Summer Garden Opened.

Sanger Hall Garden was "opened" last night, and a large number of guests, including many of the city and county chairmen, were present. The garden was a beautiful sight, and the music was most delicious.

Examine Lawyers.

The Supreme Court, sitting at West-ville, will examine a class of eighty-four young lawyers today. This is the largest class of lawyers ever examined in the State.

REVISION IN MANCHESTER

Member of City Council Wants Certain License Laws Amended.

BUTCHERS AND GROCERYMEN

Olympia Club Making Big Preparations—Judge Clopton Sick. Funerals and Deaths.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch } No. 1102 Hull Street. }
The Council Committee on Ordinances met last night and consumed some time in routine work.

The clear water ordinance did not come up, but when it does this committee will in all likelihood recommend its adoption.

One member of the committee, Councilman Pettit, thinks there is nothing as important to the city as a new pump house and clear water.

This member also thinks that the license taxes should be amended so that grocers who sell fresh meats shall be taxed, in addition to their grocers' tax, an amount equal to that of the butcher, whose sole business is that of selling meats. He also favors the abolition of a license on blacksmiths. These two items he will contend for when they come up on the floor of Council, as they are bound to do in the regular course of things.

Big Preparations.

The members of the Olympia Club are making great preparations for their outing at Ocean View. Two large tents will be spread for the members and their families, and "open house" will be the order of the day.

The club is one of the most popular in the State. Always ready at the call of aid, it has become famous as a helper in the hour of distress.

When the people of West Point met with misfortune as the result of the first year's trial, the club was the first to offer aid, and a goodly sum was sent to swell the fund.

The individual members are also noted for their charity, and many persons have felt their hand of help.

The president is Mr. Cornelius Wells and the secretary is Alderman John Moore. Colonel Billy Allen is the caterer, and he is noted as one of the best south of Richmond.

Court Notes.

Owing to the indisposition of Judge Clopton, the Corporation Court was not in session yesterday.

Mayor Maurice fined C. A. Jeter $5 for using profane language on a Petersburg car.

The case of the belligerent insurance men was continued until to-morrow on account of the absence of a lawyer.

Funerals and Deaths.

The funeral of Carl H. Blount, the five-year-old son of Mr. James W. Blount, will be from the Presbyterian Church at 4 o'clock this afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. J. Pix.

The funeral of Miss Ruth E. Hines was from Baltimore Street Church. The pall-bearers were: Walter Franklin, Archie Davidson, Tom Morton, Wesley Norvell, Harry Tennell, Charlie Watkins, Arthur Harrison and Hyram Walker.

Personals and Briefs.

Miss Virgie A. Roberts, who graduated at the High School last term, won the Woman's College scholarship offered by Dr. Nelson.

Mr. Leander Parrish and Miss Martha E. Goodman were married by Rev. Dr. Criddle Wednesday morning. They will reside in Durham, N. C.

Mr. R. Wesley Thomas is ill at his home on Maury Street.

Mr. L. Stern has been elected treasurer of the James River Furniture and Mattress Company.

In the general "raise" in the Postoffice Department, Manchester was not overlooked. One of the clerks was presented with a raise of $100 in his salary.

Mr. W. J. Sneed, who was hurt while at work in the Atlantic Coast Line yards at Richmond yesterday, was reported as getting along nicely last night. Dr. Ingram is attending him.

Mrs. C. C. Warwick is sick at her home, Campfield, Chesterfield county.

Odd-Fellows' Outing.

The Odd-Fellows' Outing Committee will meet at Unity Lodge, rooms tonight to make final arrangements for the outing at Beach Park on July 15th. A full attendance is requested.

BOARD TO HEAR THE RILEY CASE TO-DAY

Some Bedford Witnesses Here and More Are Expected.

The State Board of Public Instruction will to-day hold a meeting for the purpose of considering the case of Superintendent John S. Riley, of Bedford, who is charged with making false statements concerning the value of his property recently destroyed by fire. He has been indicted by a special grand jury of this county, and the State Board will consider the charges to find if they are of such a nature as to impair the usefulness of Mr. Riley as a school officer.

Commonwealth's Attorney H. O. Humphreys, and Messrs. M. T. Harrison, Paul Bargamin and S. H. Burt, of Bedford City, arrived last night.

When Mr. Humphreys was seen, he declared the charges the matter for publication, saying it would be improper for him to talk of the case in its present stage.

These gentlemen are here at the instance of the State Board to give such information as they may have concerning the affair, and others may arrive to-day. A telegram was received here last night from the sheriff stating that Riley was in the custody of that officer, and that unless he gave bail, he could not come to Richmond to-day.

A large number of book men are here, and the board may expect a number of visitors relating to the selection of text-books.

The board will meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

MARYLAND EDITORS SOON TO BE HERE

The Maryland Democratic Editors' Association with several invited guests, intend to visit Richmond, arriving at the Southern Railway Station to-morrow morning at 9:15. The party, which will comprise twenty-five or thirty persons, will include J. M. Street, president of the Association and editor of the Harford Democrat, his daughter, Mrs. Frank H. Jacobs, and Miss Grace Street. Mr. Wilson, Upper Marlboro Gazette; Fred Sasser, Prince George Enquirer; Colonel John W. Avrett, Cumberland Alleganian, wife and son; Judge Ferdinand Williams, of Cumberland; George R. Ash, Elkton Democrat; Colonel George E. Haddaway, Eastern Ledger, and wife; Colonel W.
